On the ball with the Manager

Welcome to today's visitors Aston Villa as the new season gets under way in earnest.

This season our preparation did not include a tour of Germany and Holland on which we have embarked over the past few years. There are several reasons for this.

We found that we were arriving on the Continent in our early stages of preparation for the season while the Germans and Dutch were only a few days away from their big kick-off.

The difference in fitness told and I do not consider it the ideal way to prepare for the new season.

WON THROUGH

This time we played in the Anglo-Scottish Cup against Bury, Oldham and Sunderland and won through to the next stage of the competition to play St. Mirren from Paisley.

The first leg of the game is in Scotland probably on September 19 with the return game at Burnden on October 2. These dates have to be confirmed.

Then of course, came our friendly against Ajax, the Dutch club that has such a wonderful record over the years. They came to Burnden on a very wet night and gave a very good account of themselves.

I was disappointed in the gate which was under 10,000 but I feel the weather played a big part in the lack of numbers.

COMPETITIVE

Those who didn't come missed a fine, competitive game and while we lost 3-1 and no one likes losing, I wasn't too disappointed with the way our side performed.

We had new signing Len Cantello playing his first full game after injury and he came through well as did Alan Gowling who took a knock just before the interval but played on.

Today is the day when all 92 League clubs start level. They all have dreams and hopes and Bolton Wanderers are no exception.

A great deal of work has been done on the ground and the team which we hope will all be to the mutual benefit of the club and the spectators. Here's to a good season for us all!

Welcome to ASTON VILLA

Aston Villa, who finished in a highly-respectable eighth position in the table, built up a reputation for producing their best form against the top teams last season.

Though their home record was quite appalling during the first half of the season, they recovered to beat such sides as Liverpool (3-1) and Arsenal (5-1) towards the close of the campaign.

It's clear that their home record cost them a place in Europe for, when the season was as far advanced as the end of February, they had managed to win only two home League games.

Paradoxically, their away performances were outstanding and they averaged a point per game throughout the season, scoring impressive wins at Tottenham (4-1) and Wolves (4-0) and taking one or two points from several of the leading clubs, including Ipswich (2-0), Arsenal (1-1), West Bromwich (1-1), Everton (1-1), Manchester United (1-1).

When they came to Burnden Park in May we held them to a goalless draw.

There have been several comings and goings at Villa Park during the close-season. Scottish international midfielder Tommy Craig has joined the crusade at Swansea, following a £150,000 transfer, and that versatile defender or midfielder John Gregory, having moved on to Brighton for £250,000, is now adding his experience to the southern club's fight for survival in their first-ever season as a First Division side.

Other well-known faces were poised to go — and, indeed, could have done so in the past couple of days. Striker Brian Little, having been depressed by a series of injuries over the past year or so, felt a fresh start would help him but, after a fee had been agreed with local rivals Birmingham City, the medical men spotlighted a minor problem and, much to the player's disappointment, the deal fell through.

There is nothing final about rejection on medical grounds, however, and there is now a small army of First Division players who have had transfers rejected for much more serious reasons — Asa Hartford's hole-in-the-heart, for example — but who have played on at top level for many years.

Scottish international striker Andy Gray was another Villa man who was looking for a move. He was disciplined by manager Ron Saunders for publicising his views but the boss made it clear that Andy plays a very important role in his plans for this season.

Later, however, there were reports that he would be allowed to leave Villa Park and Liverpool were the first club to show an interest.

Mr. Saunders did, however, sign two new forwards during the summer break, paying £220,000 to Burnley for Tony Morley and £75,000 to Grimsby for Terry Donovan, player who has looked sharp in the lower divisions and who could well earn an early chance in the First Division.

Largely due to injuries to Little and Gray, it was in attack where Villa's greatest weakness showed for much of last season.

While looking sound in defence, and more than adequate in midfield, Villa's goalscoring list tells its own story — John Deehan was top scorer, though he hit only nine goals. John Gregory and Andy Gray each scored eight, as did Gary Shelton.

Mr. Saunders will have been working upon his aspect of his team's play during the summer and we could see far more emphasis placed upon attack now.

Apart from finishing eighth in the First Division, Villa reached the fourth round of the League Cup when they were surprisingly beaten at home by Second Division Luton. In the F.A. Cup they were drawn away to Forest at the first stage and went out by 0-2.

It is now four years since Villa regained their place in the First Division and they have maintained a very impressive level of performance since then.

They finished fourth in 1976/77 and have been eighth for the past two seasons. Villa also won the League Cup in 1977 and they have been as far as the sixth round of the F.A. Cup.

With such a sound background it seems certain that Aston Villa will once again be among the leading clubs this season.

Wanderers - a unique record

Today we present part one of a magnificent new series which will chart the Wanderers' progress right back from their First Football League match in 1888 right up until the present day.

It is important that you should collect the series right from the outset because we shall be recording the result of every competitive game ever played by the club and we shall be publishing the League appearances and goalscorers for each season.

When you have completed the set you will have a unique record of the club.

This is bound to become a collectors' item and we anticipate having a big demand for back copies of the programme — just as have other clubs who have run a similar series.

The only way to ensure you keep your own records intact is to get a copy of all our home match programmes during the run of the series.

We kick off with

Part 1 — Season 1888/89

JIMMY RIMMER (Goalkeeper) Jimmy is now beginning his third season with Villa, following a £70,000 transfer from Arsenal. He began his League career with Manchester United in 1967/68 but he didn't get many senior games. A loan period with Swansea was followed by a transfer to Arsenal in 1974 and while with the Gunners he was capped by England.

JOHN GIDMAN (Defender) Liverpool manager Bill Shankly released John in 1971 because he didn't think he would make the grade. Villa signed him and he was soon in the England youth team. He made his League debut in 1972/73 and is now an England "B" international.

KEN McNAUGHT (Defender) Villa paid Everton £200,000 for Ken in 1977 and he has since been a commanding figure in the middle of their defence. He served his apprenticeship with the Goodison club and graduated to their League eleven in 1974/75.

COLIN GIBSON (Defender) Colin was one of several ex-youth team players blooded in Villa's League team last season, playing several games at left-back.

GARY WILLIAMS (Defender) Gary was another of last season's debutants, initially taking over at left-back from Gordon Smith, who moved on to Tottenham.

KENNY SWAIN (Midfield) Kenny developed in Chelsea's junior teams and got his first chance in their senior side in 1973/74. He made more than 100 League appearances for the Stamford Bridge club prior to his £100,000 transfer to Villa last season.

GORDON COWANS (Midfield) Gordon turned professional with Villa in September 1976 and made his League bow as substitute during the course of that season. He earned a regular place in midfield last season and he is now an England under-21 international.

DENNIS MORTIMER (Midfield) Dennis learned his game with Coventry City, making his initial League appearances during 1969/70. He won six under-23 caps while at Highfield Road and in 1976 he was transferred to Villa for £175,000.

ALLAN EVANS (Midfield) Allan was signed from Dunfermline for £25,000 in 1977 but it wasn't until last season, when he scored six goals, that he started to play regularly in the first-team. He was for three years a fixture in the Dunfermline side and in 1976/77 he was their leading scorer.

ANDY GRAY (Forward) Andy, six times a Scottish international, was plagued by injuries last season so his goals tally of eight was unusually low. The previous season he was top scorer with 18 and in 1976/77 he netted 29 times. A former Dundee United player — he was top scorer in his first two seasons — he joined Villa for £110,000 in 1975.

TONY MORLEY (Forward) Tony arrived from Burnley during the close-season on a £220,000 transfer. He served his apprenticeship with Preston and then moved on to Burnley for £100,000 in 1976.

JOHN DEEHAN (Forward) John turned down the invitation to play for the Republic of Ireland in the hope one day of winning England caps. During his early days at Villa Park, he played for the England youth team. John came into the Villa side in 1975/76 and last season he was their top scorer.

BRIAN LITTLE (Forward) Brian is a former England international who, apart from his injury-enforced absences, has been a regular scorer for Villa since his first game in 1971/72. He had hoped to make a fresh start with Birmingham City this season but, after terms had been agreed, he had the tragic misfortune to fail the stiff medical.

TERRY DONOVAN (Forward) The better Terry plays the more it is going to cost Villa! The club signed him from Grimsby this summer for £75,000 but will have to pay a further £25,000 after 25 first-team games and an additional £25,000 after 40. Two seasons ago Terry was Grimsby's top scorer with 18 goals.

ALEX CROPLEY (Forward) Alex recovered from a broken leg to regain his place in the side last season. A full and under-23 Scottish international in his Hibernian days, Alex moved on to Arsenal for £150,000 in 1974 and to Villa for £125,000 two years later.

YOUTH...

Wanderers' chief scout Jim Conway is the man in charge of helping the club's youngsters bridge the gap between junior football and the professional ranks of the Central League and Division One football.

These are the players who make up the Bolton 'A' team which competes in the Lancashire League 'A' Division. There is a 'B' Division for under 18s and strictly speaking the youngsters should be playing in that League, but Jim maintains that success in such a League would prove nothing.

In the 'A' Division, which is open age, the youngsters come up against seasoned professionals because in addition to the 'A' teams of Manchester United, Liverpool and Manchester City, the League includes the reserve teams of Wrexham, Carlisle and Stockport.

"We give away quite a bit of advantage in age and physique generally in this league, but it is tremendous experience for the apprentices and schoolboys.

OBJECTIVE

"I see the main objective as trying to bridge the gap between junior football and the professional football of the Reserve and First teams. It's the biggest jump footballers must make in their careers. Bigger than Central League football to the first team and bigger than club football to international football".

The 'A' team is made up of schoolboys on associate forms, young apprentices and trialists.

The three local lads who joined Wanderers as apprentices in the Spring, Mike Bennett, Barry Taylor and Brian Atherton are joined by another youngster Neil Berry, who signed as an apprentice from Tynecastle Boys' Club.

The fact that Mike Bennett has had a number of games in the Reserves is a measure of the experience to be gained from playing in the open-age League.

They and the associate schoolboys have a great deal to learn before breaking into the higher ranks and playing regularly against professionals and not schoolboys, can do them no harm at all.

"We don't necessarily look for results in terms of points from wins and draws.

JIM CONWAY

We could collect a lot of points in the 'B' Division and no doubt do well in it, but it would be a waste of time," Jim added.

IN CHARGE

Jim is in charge of gathering the youngsters together and building the 'A' team, and former Wanderers goalkeeper Stan Hanson is in overall charge of team affairs. Stan still lives in the Bolton area and runs the Post Office opposite Burnden Park.

He was a long serving member of the Wanderers line-up in years past, but still has the club at heart and is as keen a supporter as ever. John Tomlinson has direct responsibility for the team and Peter Nightingale's job is the treatment of injuries.

The 'A' team plays its home matches on the Bromwich Street ground. Kick off times are usually 2-15 on Saturdays.

With ever-spiralling transfer fees being the order of the day, manager Ian Greaves is looking more towards producing his own players for the future and to this end, the development of the youngsters is vital.

A man who has been recruited to add weight to Mr. Greaves's "home grown" policy is former Blackburn manager and coach John Pickering.

John will be in charge of improving players' skills and techniques and will also assist with scouting. He is looking forward to the challenge of a new season and has been impressed with the set up at Burnden since arriving just a short time ago.

He has high hopes for Wanderers this season.

First Division Focus

Aston Villa bring with them to Burnden Park today all the excitement of the start to a new season. And even if their forward Brian Little is still feeling a little depressed over the cancellation of his hoped-for transfer to Birmingham City on medical grounds, he has the consolation that he has still a lot of football still to play.

Not so for Arsenal and England striker Malcolm Macdonald who was told he would never play again — just as he was in training and ready for the big kick-off.

Super-Mac will probably have difficulty in holding back the tears this afternoon as, for the first time in some 15 years, he will not be part of the professional set-up.

As he sits it out this afternoon, either at home or in some grandstand, he will still probably not have recovered from the shock of it all. His only consolation is that, in years to come, he will be seen to have gone out at the top.

Though he occasionally upsets folks with his outspoken comments, Macdonald's record speaks for itself. He scored 240 goals in domestic League and Cup games for Fulham, Luton, Newcastle and Arsenal.

Super-Mac enjoyed nine full seasons in League football — he was top of his club's scoring list in every one of them!

He headed all five goals for England against Cyprus in a European Football Championship tie at Wembley in 1975 — one of only three men to hit five in a full international for England.

LAST GOAL

His last goal was for Arsenal against Manchester City at Maine Road last August. Soon after that he suffered the first of a series of knee injuries which was eventually to end his career.

Sadly, it was injuries that tended to dominate the run-up to this new season. Peter Taylor Tottenham's former England winger, entered hospital for a pelvic operation less than three weeks before the opening of the campaign.

So, really, it was a wasted summer for Taylor who was left out of Spurs' touring party in order that he should have a complete rest. In retrospect, it might have been better for him to have undergone surgery at the end of last season but there is no way in which these things can be anticipated. It will be several weeks before Taylor will be back in training.

While several unfortunates suffer regular layoffs through injury, one man continues to defy the gremlins — even though he's now probably the oldest player in the First Division and plays in the most vulnerable position of all.

Goalkeeper Jim Montgomery was relegated with Birmingham City at the end of last season but during the summer he was transferred to First Division Nottingham Forest.

Peter Shilton will, of course, remain Forest's first-choice 'keeper' but manager Brian Clough has been planning to have experienced cover for every position as he plots further success in the European Cup.

Forest sold reserve goalkeeper Chris Woods to Q.P.R. for £250,000 during the summer. Woods had never played a League game, though Montgomery, on the other hand, has well over 600 League games behind him.

GREATEST DAY

He made his first appearance for Sunderland in 1962 and when he left Roker in 1977 he had created a club record of 537 League appearances.

His greatest day was undoubtedly at Wembley in 1973 when his spectacular saves denied Leeds United and enabled Sunderland to become shock winners of the F.A. Cup.

But who knows that even greater things may not be in store? Forest could be in the European Cup final again Peter Shilton might be injured . . . and the veteran Monty might yet pale that Wembley day in a haze of insignificance!

If manager John Barnwell has his way his team will be Wolves without a bark this season — though most definitely not on the field. And, with former Liverpool star Emlyn Hughes installed as their new skipper, that would be impossible, anyway.

But Mr. Barnwell has imposed a strict ban on bad language from his players. "We have got to make Wolves great again and this is one way in which we can set an example," he explained.

"The players will not be allowed to swear on or off the field and we hope that the fans on the terrace will take note and follow suit.

"We have built a fine new stadium at Molineux and I want a team and supporters fit to fill it."

Meet the Ref

GWYN OWEN (Anglesey). Started refereeing in the Anglesey League in 1961 and then continued via the Welsh League (North) and Welsh League to the Football League's referees' list. Refereed the Scotland v Northern Ireland amateur international in 1972. Lined the 1970 England v Scotland Under-23 match, a Football League Cup semi-final in 1972 and many UEFA and European Cup matches.

A married man with three children, he is headmaster of Llanddona Primary School, has a caravan business, farms and is part time soccer reporter on BBC Radio and Television Welsh speaking programmes. He is first tenor in a local male voice choir.

How to get there

Fans travelling to Liverpool by road for the Wanderers' game at Anfield are advised by the Royal Automobile Club to take the following route:

Leave Bolton on the A666 taking the M61 and then M62 to Liverpool (31 miles).

On leaving the motorway, keep straight ahead at traffic lights under the flyover onto Edge Lane (dual carriageway).

Follow City Centre signs for two miles to Edge Lane bus garage which is just past the Plessey Factory on the left.

You are advised to park your car here and make use of the special football bus service from the garage to the ground as parking in the vicinity of Liverpool FC is difficult.

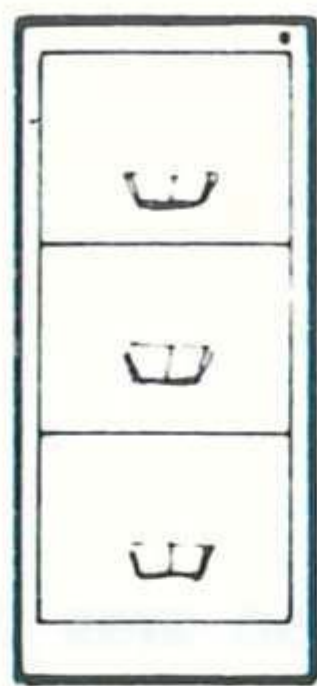

Wanderers Travel Club

Travel facilities to away games are again available through the official Wanderers Travel Club to members who produce their membership card when booking and carry their card on all coach or rail trips.

Membership of the Travel Club for the coming season is now being accepted by the promotions office and costs just 50p for the year (free for agents).

A passport size photograph is all that is required along with the membership fee. Support your team and follow the Wanderers with the official Travel Club.
